

New Apex Learning Adaptive Tutorials Target Student Learning Gaps

Adaptive remediation ensures students are prepared for grade-level content

SEATTLE, WA — May 18, 2016 — Apex Learning, the leading provider of blended and virtual learning solutions to the nation's schools, today announced an added level of personalized learning available for the innovative Tutorials product. The new adaptive Tutorials identify learning gaps and provide the remedial instruction necessary to prepare each student to master grade-level content.

"Gaps in prior learning are the reason many students struggle in school," said Cheryl Vedoe, CEO, Apex Learning. "The challenge teachers have is the gaps are different from one student to the next. The new Tutorials with adaptive remediation make it possible for teachers to support each student with a personalized learning plan."

Tutorials have been proven to increase student learning. A recent study of Tutorials found that student performance increased by 20 percentile points from pre-test to post-test. Now with adaptive remediation, Tutorials present prerequisite content to each student at just the point it's needed, supporting more students in achieving success in grade-level content.

Adaptive Tutorials will be available in June 2016. Tutorials are currently offered for 6th through 12th grade English and math and high school U.S. history, and biology. College Readiness Tutorials for the SAT, ACT, ACCUPLACER and TSI as well as GED are also available. For more information contact 1.800.453.1454 or visit:
